Horan will perform on the plaza at New York City's Rockefeller Center on June 12, 2026, as part of the Citi Concert Series on "TODAY." While in the State this summer, he'll also play co-headlining stadium shows with Thomas Rhett at Nashville's GEODIS Park (July 9) and Hersheypark Stadium in Hershey, PA (July 18). He'll kick off the UK/EU leg of Dinner Party Live On Tour on September 22, 2026, in Birmingham, England at Utilita Arena Birmingham.

"More than anything, Dinner Party is a celebration of life and love," observed writer Larisha Paul in The Rolling Stone Interview with Niall Horan, which appears in the May issue of the U.S. edition of the publication. This deep-dive conversation series is the longest-running franchise in the magazine's history. Read the feature HERE and watch the full interview on YouTube. Rolling Stone UK will syndicate the interview as a digital cover with print magazines available for fans to order. Horan also stopped by Perfectly Imperfect to talk about what he's been into recently. There's something about sharing a table that feels like sharing a future and Dinner Party brings the listener into that experience with warmth, wit and sincerity. The album is cinematic and organic, with songs that play like memories being gently created. Julian Bunetta and John Ryan, Horan's longtime collaborators, served as executive producers. His other creative partners and co-writers included Afterhrs, Amy Allen, Ian Franzino, Andrew Haas, Steph Jones, Rocky Block and Joel Little. Pre-order /pre-save Dinner Party HERE.

Praising his new single, "Little More Time," as an "anthem for any 30something looking down the barrel of midlife," GQ observed, "Horan sings about turning clocks upside down, stretches out each melody and verse like it's stuck in honey, and begs for one more song like a reveler coming to terms with last call at their favorite karaoke bar—a Bernard's Watch for the adults in the room."

The multi-Platinum-selling singer/songwriter first rose to prominence as part of the internationally acclaimed One Direction and has since firmly established himself as a powerhouse solo artist, selling over 90 million records worldwide. He launched his solo career with the Platinum-certified album Flicker, which featured the triple-Platinum hit "Slow Hands." Horan has since released three additional albums —Heartbreak Weather, which ranked No. 1 on both Billboard's Top Album Sales Chart and the U.K.'s Official Albums Chart, The Show, which topped the same two charts, and The Show: Encore. His 2024 global headline trek "THE SHOW" LIVE ON TOUR brought his music to packed arenas across multiple continents, culminating in a sold-out North American run and over 1.2 million tickets sold worldwide.
